

Adriatic

Adriatic

Crash and rumble, sonic boom
Flash of light ignites the gloom
Bite of ozone cuts sea air
Clouds riven by electric flare

Cruising through a sea of wonder
Words are lost drowned in thunder
Ancient gods and legend echo near
The sky erupts in their battle here

The gods rebel in majesty
Their voices roll in rhapsody
The heavens flare in stark light
Eclipsing even the warm moonlight

A place of dolphin, where heroes sleep
Of legend and the divine deep
Not for cruisers of empty soul
But spirits of odyssey and times toll.
