

Catherine A tale of today

Catherine
A tale of today

Tomorrow
I will walk
We will dance
The world will watch and wonder

Laugh
You will joke
We will share
The world will not admit

Sleep
I will dream
You will embrace
The world will steal from us

Feed
I will gorge
You will satisfy
The world will hunger

Love
I will love
You will love
The world will fail to care

Catherine A tale of today

Pain

I will fight

You will overcome

The world will bring even more

Work

I will provide

You will nurture

The world will challenge

Beth

I love

You love

The world will try to steal

Truth

I seek

You provide

The world hides from

Peace

I strive for

You bring to me

The world keeps from all

Time

I will waste

You will cherish

Catherine A tale of today

The world has not enough

Song

I will raise in joy

You will listen

The world has in abundance

Beauty

Is in my sight

Is in your very being

The world has not enough

You

Are in my heart

Are in my soul

Are mine to share

Life

Will end but not in fear or sorrow

But in rage and celebration
