

Cool

Cool

Azure blue fades to White Sunlight streams with blistering might Cool wind slake the perspiring right
Lapping water offers cool respite

Shadows crisp with median light Havens of comfort from the suns might Bodies baste in protective oils
Minds lost in literary and musical spoils iPod culture in gross display

Need for thought pushed away
Stretch and yawn in relaxed motion
Most demanding to apply the lotion

Plunge into cool at a slightest whim
Effort limited to a solitary swim
Laze luxuriously in liquid languor
Forgive and forget all fear and anger
