Lost

My love cannot be lost
It may founder on pain and fear
My love will not be lost
It grows with each passing year

My love cannot be lost
It may revolt at sickly flesh
My love will not be lost
It profits with every breath

My love cannot be lost
It may divide yet always conquer
My love will not be lost
It shares both wife and daughter

My love cannot be lost
It may exceed my lust for life
My love will not be lost
It is fulfilled by my wife

My love cannot be lost
It is a weapon of my nurture
My love will not be lost
It thrives in my daughter's future

My love cannot be lost
It scythes through all dark places
My love will not be lost
It protects my dearest faces

My love cannot be lost
It may be challenged by death and danger
My love will not be lost
It will never be a stranger

My love cannot be lost
It may not always be a driver
My love will not be lost
It empowers me to be a survivor

My love cannot be lost
She shares our bed and table
