Travelling home for Xmas

Travelling home for Xmas
From the light and blue skies
To a cold grey metropolitan mass
From verdant growth rich for the eyes

Expectation high, excitement grows
Return with joy to a haven of love
Bags packed with wonder, nobody knows
A place of comfort snug as a glove

Tree all glitter shines like a star
A glory to savour for the season
Door always open to friends from afar
A welcome to all whatever the reason

Christmas is special but more so here
In a year to remember, to celebrate
Thankful for life we raise a cheer
We gather together a favourite date
